overcome by the Spaulding outfit when the half was well under way. Williams scored three times, Ogsten twice and Grady once during this period. Williams also scored two fouls. A long shot by Ogsten was one of the feature shots of the game. The score at the end of this period was close, 14 to 11, in Spaulding's favor.

The second half was nearly a repetition of the first, Montpelier taking the lead at the start. After the lead had swayed back and forth, Montpelier took it, towards the end of the game, only to be overcome in the last minute of play.
Bartlett played a good game for Montpelier, having four baskets to his credit.
On account of the small size of the hall, team work was useless, and the players were forced to shoot as soon as they received the ball. Rough playing was at times noticeable, caused also somewhat by the small size of the hall.

The summary:
Spaulding, Montpelier.

A Spirited Game Won by Yannigans.
Between the halves of the game, the Yannigans, an athletic aggregation of Barre, defeated the St. Michael's academy team of Montpelier by the score of 18 to 12. This game was nearly as interesting to watch as the bigger game.
"Peant" Carroll, the diminutive center, and Luigi Tomasi were the star performers for the Yannigan team. Carroll proved the fact that size does not mean power, while Tomasi's dribbling brought forth merited applause time after time. W. Tierney also played well for the Barre outfit. Oligney and Perkins were the most aggressive players for the Montpelier aggregation. The summary:

"MILLIONAIRE FOR DAY" ASKS FOR PENSION

John Jay McDevitt Feels That He Has Done Something to Warrant Recognition from the Carnegie Board.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., March 14.—John Jay McDevitt, known as "Butch" and as "a millionaire for a day," feels he has done something to warrant recognition from the Carnegie fund bureau.
McDevitt got rid of his last cent by his "millionaire" play and is now a candidate for Congress, backed chiefly by his pension fund bureau, saying:
"If you feel you are doing a good and worthy work in assisting men who to your satisfaction are factors in the world's development for good, then I would suggest, in my own modest way, that you give me a look-in. I have long ago concluded God intended me for something more than an aimless existence, and if you, with your unlimited wealth, would devote slightly from what you have in mind and consider my philosophy, I am thoroughly satisfied you would list me as one of your petitioners, and, believe me, you would not go wrong at that. Many things are necessary to make life pleasant and agreeable other than food and drink."

"A little sunshine now and then will not hurt, figuratively speaking, hence I would like to go through this life dropping sparks of optimism as I wander about and endeavor to break up the monotonous clouds that overshadow so many poor people on this map."
"So, why not consider me and send me forth on this mission?"
"Let me know when you will list me and the day you desire me to go forth on my mission."

FOUR WERE KILLED IN FLYER WRECK

Big Four Passenger Train Collided, Head-on, With Freight at Greencastle, Ind.

Greencastle, Ind., March 14.—Four passengers were killed and many injured when Big Four passenger train No. 29, the twenty-four hour St. Louis to New York train, collided head-on with a freight train in the yards here late Tuesday night.
John Milan, engineer of the freight train; Engineer Donaldson of the passenger train; Dan Hanna of Indianapolis, fireman of the passenger train, and Charles Cronkite, an ironworker of Kansas City, Mo., who was riding in the passenger train, are the dead. D. C.
Robinson, conductor of the passenger train, and W. L. Doves, another ironworker, who was riding on the engine, were seriously injured. E. T. Van Cott of New York and C. Robinson of St. Louis, passengers, were among those slightly injured.

A confusion of orders is said to have caused the wreck. The freight train, westbound, had been lying for half an hour on the eastbound track, when the flyer, running about sixty miles an hour, crashed into it. Both engines were badly smashed, the mail and baggage cars buckled, and the buffet car was overturned. Two passenger cars rolled down a fifteen-foot embankment and two freight cars were telescoped. Several of the passengers were cut by flying glass but none of them was seriously injured.
The Greencastle station is nearly a mile from the center of the town, but not far from the scene of the wreck, and rescuers were on the ground only a few minutes after the crash. The injured were carried to the station, where several volunteer physicians attended them. Both tracks were blocked by the wreckage and the work of clearing away the debris was started at daylight.

The passenger train, which is rated as one of the best on the road running through to New York, does not stop at Greencastle, but reduces its speed in passing through the town. It had just reached the place where speed is usually slackened when the crash came.

Officers are puzzled to account for the presence of the westbound freight train on the eastbound tracks when the westbound track was unoccupied. An investigation is in progress.

BAD O' & W. WRECK.

Engineer and Fireman Killed as Freight Trains Collide.
Norwich, N. Y., March 14.—Northbound train 29 on the Ontario & Western railroad, a through freight to Oswego, collided with an extra southbound freight from Utica one mile north of Galena Tuesday night, wrecking both trains and killing Engineer E. W. Kingman of this village, in charge of train 29, and Fireman Irving W. Cole of the extra, whose home is in Oneonta.

Conductor Harvey Stoddard and Engineer John Adams of the extra and Fireman David Ivory of 29 were seriously injured.

Train 29 had the right of way. The collision occurred on a curve and there was no time to stop the heavy trains before the engines met.
Engineer Kingman, when he saw that a collision was inevitable, he was caught beneath a box car and crushed.
Fireman Cole was pinned beneath his engine and was literally cooked to death by the escaping steam.

Kingman is survived by his wife and three small daughters. A relief train with physicians was immediately sent to the scene of the wreck from this station, and the dead and injured were brought here.

TO RESIST U. S.

Dix Says N. Y. State Will Oppose Hudson River Dam Plan.
Albany, N. Y., March 14.—New York state will resist with action in the courts any attempt on the part of the national government to construct a new dam in the Hudson river at Troy, Gov. John A.
Dix in effect made that announcement yesterday in speaking of the situation.
This matter has been a subject of controversy between the state and the national government for several months, and recently announcement was made that the war department intended to proceed with the construction of the dam, for which Congress appropriated $1,000,000.

In speaking of the situation yesterday, the governor stated that he would say as chief executive of the state that the government would not construct the dam until it was decreed by the courts that the government had the right to do so.

FOOD PRICE BEATS WAGES

Declares Statement in President Taft's Message

SUBMITTED TO CONGRESS

Problem Has Been Found to Be Worldwide and of Absorbing Interest—He Reports the Results of the State Department's Inquiries.

Washington, D. C., March 14.—The president yesterday, in a special message to Congress, transmitted the first installment of the information collected by the department of state in regard to co-operation and the cost of living in various European countries. The department, by direction of the president, instructed the consular officers to make the investigation. The results of the inquiry are summed up in a letter from acting Secretary of State Huntington Wilson, which is submitted with the consular reports and with a summary of their contents.
The president in his message says that the popular demand for information of this character apparently was based on the belief that some remedy might be found for the high cost of living. The immediate result of the inquiries instituted by the department of state through the consular offices was to accentuate the fact that the increase in prices of the common necessities of life is world-wide, and that it is an absorbing question with the co-operative associations. Intelligence presented by the co-operative societies shows that even where there has been an advance in wages the percentage has not kept pace with the rise in the cost of food supplies.

The president says that the information collected by the department of state is a permanent contribution to the history of the efforts of producers and consumers to solve for themselves the economic problems of production, distribution, and consumption. If the co-operative associations which have been in existence for half a century have not been able to determine the fundamental causes of the increased cost of living or to retard the advance, the student of social progress may at least derive instruction from the account of the associations and their influence on the well-being of their members.

The president also calls attention to his message of February 2, in which he recommended an international commission to look into the cause for the high prices of the necessities of life and the possible remedies. Should such a commission be authorized by Congress, he says, the relation of the co-operative societies to this subject would be of great interest.

Acting Secretary Wilson in the letter to the president describing the activities of the department of state in carrying out the president's instructions says that while the consular officers were engaged in their investigations their attention was drawn to the facts given by the co-operative societies concerning the advance in the prices of the most necessary articles of food. The reports on this phase of the subject were uniform in showing that the members of the cooperative associations were feeling the unpleasant increase in the cost of staple commodities. The consul-general at London forwarded a table prepared by the co-operative wholesale societies which exhibited the increased cost of certain articles in the United Kingdom since 1898. From a summary of rates of wages, it was developed that the percent of increase in certain trades from 1896 to 1910 was 111 and in food prices 19.5. The wages of railway employees during this period had increased only 7.3 per cent. The consul at Southampton reported that during the past five years there had been an advance of 20 per cent in the purchase price of fresh beef, mutton, bacon, hams, butter, eggs, fruits, tea, dried fruits, sugar, coffee, fuel, tin goods, women's apparel, footwear, clothing, cotton goods, and furniture and underwear. A series of figures relating to general groceries compiled by the Cooperative Wholesale Society of Manchester gave an instructive example of what the rise in the cost of provisions meant to an ordinary family. Taking the table as a whole, it appeared that as compared with 1898 the increased cost of living in 1910 was 13.36 per cent.

AEROPLANE IN MID-AIR COLLISION

Passenger Hurt in Accident Over German Flying Field Near Berlin.

Berlin, March 14.—A collision occurred yesterday between two aeroplanes flying around the aerodrome at Johannisthal.
The machine driven by the German airman, Schade, who was carrying a passenger named Radowski, struck violently another aeroplane driven by the German airman, Rettinger. Both the aeroplanes were smashed and fell to the ground, Radowski being injured, while the two airmen escaped unhurt.

DYNAMITE TRIAL STANDS.

Judge Refused to Quash the Indictments.

Indianapolis, March 14.—All the defendants indicted for violation of federal statutes governing transportation of explosives, must go to trial in one case on Oct. 1 according to the final ruling of Judge A. B. Anderson yesterday after he had heard arguments of attorneys for the defense in a motion for the separate trials.
In the consolidation of the cases the indictments against 54 men are merged in one with 128 counts, 28 of which charge conspiracy to violate the statutes forbidding carrying dynamite and nitro-glycerine on passenger trains, and 100 charges direct violations by the defendants both as abettors of and as principals with Orrie McManigal, John J. and James B. McNamara and Herbert S. Hocking. Forty-six of the defendants, present or former officers of labor unions in many cities, alleged to have been implicated in a dynamiting campaign against the "open shop" in the structural industry, were in court and their bonds were continued.

PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN FOR BAD STOMACHS

Indigestion, Sourness, Gas, Heartburn or Dyspepsia Easily Relieved in Five Minutes.

Take your sour, out-of-order stomach —or maybe you call it indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or catarrh of stomach; it doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your pharmacist and ask him to open a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and let you eat one 22-grain triangle and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your former misery.
The correct name for your trouble is food fermentation—food souring; the digestive organs become weak, there is lack of gastric juice; your food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, gripping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, biliousness, sick headache, nervousness, dizziness or many other similar symptoms.
If your appetite is feeble and nothing tempts you, or you belch gas, or if you feel bloated after eating, or your food lies like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself in five minutes that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery.
Almost instant relief is waiting for you. It is merely a matter of how soon you take a little Diapepsin.

GAYNOR DEFENDS WOODROW WILSON

And Takes Occasion to Say Something About the Newspaper Owner Who Every Four Years is a Violent Candidate.

New York, March 14.—Writing to Gov.
Woodrow Wilson, on March 6, Mayor Gaynor referred to "a proprietor of several newspapers" who "once every four years is a violent candidate" for the presidency. "He wants to get you down and get the hobnails of his shoes into your flesh," added the mayor, referring to certain attacks made upon Gov. Wilson. "But I write to you only to say that I am glad you do not pay any attention to this common libel. He can neither add to nor detract from a man like you."

The Wilson press agent made the letter public on Tuesday along with the reply that Gov. Wilson sent to the mayor on Monday. "Misrepresentation is the penalty which men in public life must expect in the course of their effort to render service," said the governor.
Then, by way of showing his appreciation of the kindness of the mayor, Gov.
Wilson handed the following epistolary bouquet to him: "May I not congratulate you on the character of the administration you have succeeded in giving the greatest metropolitan city of the country?"

The mayor's letter says:
"Dear Governor Wilson: We have in this town a proprietor of several newspapers, including one in Yiddish, who thinks himself fit for any and every office that comes along, including the presidency. Once every four years he is a violent candidate for that office, to the amusement of the nation, more or less. He sometimes gets in the convention the votes of the delegates from the states which we ordinarily call 'purchas-able.'"

"He is now pulling himself up in his publications, and crying down every one else who he thinks may be in his way as a candidate. His method is like that of some hogs in a fire, or a like emergency, namely, to jump upon all others in his way, and beat them down, and trample the hobnails of his shoes into their flesh in his efforts to save his own carcass. This is his way of striving for a nomination or an election. Not until the human heart generally becomes as cold and as hard as his will that he succeed. The average human heart is kind and true.

"Someone has sent to me an attack of his on you. He wants to get you down and get the hobnails of his shoes into your flesh. The more fit you are, the more he wants to trample on you because you are in his way. He ridicules you and denounces you for saying somewhere that Washington did not write the 'farewell address.' As usual he seeks to excite passion and prejudice by appealing to the ignorant.

"It is no discredit to Washington that he had the 'farewell address' written by others. As I remember Jefferson's account, Madison prepared a farewell ad-

PROHIBIT EXPORTATION OF WAR MUNITIONS

To Any Nation With Which the United States Is at Peace Is Gist of Resolution Adopted by the Senate.

Washington, D. C., March 14.—Revolutionists or promoters of domestic violence in any pan-American country hereafter may not hope for war supplies from the United States.
The Senate yesterday adopted a resolution which when passed by the House will empower the president to prohibit at his discretion any exportation of munitions of war to any country with which the United States is at peace.

Senator Root, who framed the resolution, said thousands of Americans in Mexico are fleeing from their homes there, imperiled by arms shipped to rebels by Americans.

The resolution was the outgrowth also of the Mexican government's request for a revision of the United States neutrality laws. It is expected that the House will pass the measure to-day.
One result probably will be an increase in the border control to enforce neutrality and stop all shipments of arms.

MISSING MAN'S DAUGHTER DEAD.

Augustine Bourassa Died at Winooki Yesterday.

Winooki, March 14.—Miss Augustine Bourassa, aged 13, died at her home on Leclair avenue yesterday, after a five months' illness of tuberculosis. The 15th of last December, her father, Alphonse Bourassa, disappeared from home, and no trace of the missing man has been heard of since, although he has been widely advertised. He was last seen on the day of his disappearance in the vicinity of the railroad bridge which crosses the river near Athletic park.
She is survived by her mother, three brothers and five sisters. The funeral will be held Friday morning from St.
Francis Xavier church.

WINNING POINT AT VERY END

Spaulding High Defeated Montpelier High, 28 to 27

IN MONTEPILIER Y. M. C. A. GYM.

The Game Was Fast and at Times Was Rather Rough—This Makes Spaulding's Second Victory Over This Team.

With just a few seconds left to play in a game against Montpelier high school at Montpelier last night, Grady, Spaulding high school's crack center, picked the ball off the floor as it rolled out from a scrimmage and tossed it through the loop for the winning tally, making the final score 28 to 27. Only a minute before, with Spaulding leading, Bartlett sent Montpelier high ahead when he scored on a long shot. This made the large delegation of Spaulding rooters which accompanied the team gaze at the game with a gloomy aspect, which soon disappeared when Spaulding made their winning points.

The game was the fastest and most exciting that has been played in the Montpelier Y. M. C. A. gymnasium this winter. The game was anyone's all the way, the lead changing several times.
There was a contrast between the game last night and the one played in this city a few weeks ago, when Spaulding swamped the Capital city team. Last night Spaulding had to play to the last minute before the game came to them.
Spaulding was a little off color, their basket shooting being conspicuous by their inability to locate the loop.

Montpelier opened the first half in a snappy fashion by scoring four baskets from the floor, while Spaulding had only one point, a basket from the foul line, to their credit. Smith threw one and Taisey the other three. This lead was Peculiar After Effects of Grip This Year

Leaves Kidneys in Weakened Condition.
Doctors in all parts of the country have been kept busy with the epidemic of grip which have visited so many homes. The symptoms of grip this year are very distressing and leave the system in a run-down condition, particularly the kidneys, which seem to suffer most, as every victim complains of lame back and urinary troubles which should not be neglected, as these danger signals often lead to more serious sickness, such as dread Bright's disease. Local druggists report a large sale on Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, which so many people say soon heals and strengthens the kidneys after an attack of grip. Swamp-Root is a great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, and, being an herbal compound, has a gentle, healing effect on the kidneys, which is almost immediately noticed by those who try it. Dr. Kilmer & Co., Rushington, N. Y., offer to send a sample bottle of Swamp-Root, free by mail, to every sufferer who requests it. A trial will convince anyone who may be in need of it. Regular size bottles 50 cents and $1.00. For sale at all druggists. Be sure to mention this paper.
